Working with children and families has been Michelle Zombeck's passion since a young age. Michelle graduated from Central Michigan University where she studied psychology and family studies. For almost 20 years Michelle has worked towards ensuring that children and families have the services they need to be successful. Joining the Child Advocacy team in 2013 as the Program Director of Court Appointed Special Advocates (CASA) has allowed Michelle to continue with her passion. CASA takes volunteer citizens from the community and trains them to advocate on behalf of children involved in abuse and neglect cases in Gratiot County. CASA volunteers ensure that a child's best interest and needs are being met. Michelle is the Vice President of the Mid-Michigan Foster and Adoptive Coalition (MMFAC), President of the Women's Resource Center of MidMichigan, and a member of the Multi-Disciplinary Team for the Children's Advocacy Center.
